Dear Dann,

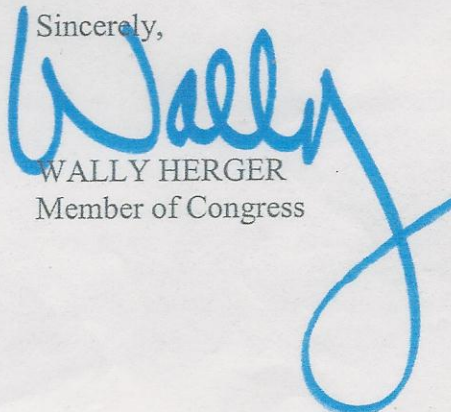

I am writing to express my appreciation for your service and dedication to our nation's veterans. I was pleased to visit the Museum of Forgotten Warriors earlier this year and am grateful to you for what you have accomplished.

Our veterans deserve the utmost honor and respect for their service to our country and it says a lot about you as a person that you recognized a need and took it upon yourself to provide a place where individual stories could be remembered and service to our country could be appreciated. You have one of the nicest private museums I have ever visited.

I was interested to hear the story behind the Museum of Forgotten Warriors and impressed to learn that even as a young man just out of high school you were able to recognize that veterans returning from the Vietnam War were not being given the respect they so truly deserved. You should be commended for providing a place where our nations heroes could be recognized for the jobs they did.

Again, thank you for your service to your community and your countrymen. I hope the museum is able to share these important stories for many years to come.

Sincerely,

WALLY HERGER
